

VÖLKER

Völker Vis-a-Vis: a bed that promotes lying, sitting, standing, walking.

A New Feature of the Volker Care Concept

The Volker vision is to enable all people in need of care to live their life as independently as possible. Volker promotes this philosophy with our beds' functions, which meet care giving requirements by allowing clients to care for themselves through the use of technology.

Introducing the Vis-a-Vis

The Vis-a-Vis continues this tradition by allowing more than just an increase in mobility of clients – it allows for active independence. Commonly, clients who are unable or choose not to leave their beds are not entirely immobile. Often, more mobility is possible if the bed can be adjusted in such a manner that it forms a seat in which patients' feet can be placed firmly on the floor.

The "stand-up stimulus" is initiated by the correct sitting position, the lowering of the thigh section and the raising of the head section of the bed.

Assisted transfers are improved by the carer providing assistance from the front of the bed instead of the side as on conventional beds.
